SENATORS PROBING CHARGES

Against Lieut. Gov. O'Hara, Head of "White Slave" Commission

AFFIDAVIT IS FILED

Charging State Official With Immorality — Subpoena Issued for Robinson Woman, Principal Witness in Case.

[Associated Press Telegram] Chicago, May 10.—Miss Maude Robinson, author of the affidavit calling into question the moral conduct of Lieutenant Governor Barrett O'Hara, told the story to the executive committee to investigate the allegations. Asked point blank by Senator Ettelson if her relations with the lieutenant governor had been unduly intimate, the witness replied in the negative. In her testimony she brought in the name of Mrs. Mabel Davidson Inbush, of Madison, Wis., daughter of a former governor of the Badger state. She said that she came from Springfield to Chicago on the train with O'Hara and Thomas Vredenberg. They went to the Hotel La Salle where she checked her baggage and where they met Mrs. Inbush, a widow. They then visited the cafe of the Hotel Sherman for dinner. Vredenberg, she said, left the table and when he returned, handed her the key to a suite of rooms, saying he had registered the quartette as "J. F. Miller and wife," and "P. Gibbons and wife."

After the meal the party adjourned to a cafe where, she said, they met Harry Gibbons, a court bailiff and friend of O'Hara's, whom the latter says he telegraphed to meet him in Chicago when he found himself in the party on the train. After a number of drinks, witness declared that she, Mrs. Inbush and Vredenberg went to the Hotel Sherman, leaving Gibbons and O'Hara talking on the sidewalk in front of the cafe. Later in the evening she said, the lieutenant governor called at the apartment. It was at this point that Senator Ettelson asked the direct question as to her relations with O'Hara. Miss Robinson testified she came to the hotel on January 17, and remained there three days. Witness said that she signed the affidavit at the request of Samuel Davis, a liquor dealer of Springfield, who assured her that it would never be made public but would be used only to coerce O'Hara into steering his investigation away from Davis. She said that the paper was meant as a club to be held over O'Hara, according to assurances given her. Later Davis asked her to sign a second affidavit against O'Hara, but upon advice from Fred Mortimer, a

Baseball War Opened Today At Indianapolis Between Teams of Rival Leagues

[Associated Press Telegram] Indianapolis, Ind., May 10.—With the opening of the Federal league season here and the transfer of the Louisville-Indianapolis game of the American association to this city on account of the derby at Louisville, Indianapolis today probably will witness the start of a baseball war between the two leagues. Preceding the game the Federal league club which meets Chicago, has arranged an automobile parade through the downtown streets and to their new field, where Governor Ralston will pitch the first ball. It is generally conceded that the Federal game will draw the larger crowd, as baseball fans are curious to see what Manager "Whoa Bill" Phillips has to offer. The Indianapolis association team

WILL CONTINUE TARIFF FIGHT FOR PUBLIC HEARINGS

[Associated Press Telegram] Washington, May 10.—With the senate adjournment until Tuesday, the report of the fight against consideration of the tariff bill by the finance committee without public hearings will be continued, the republican leaders endeavoring to win votes for the Penrose amendment to instruct the committee to open its door. Some democrats are reported as disapproving the decision not to hold hearings and upon them the opposition bases its hope to overturn the majority. Senate democrats are planning to caucus on the tariff bill in the near future to thresh out the much disputed wool and sugar schedules and other features that have developed isolated party opposition. There also will be settled the question of excusing senators from supporting any particular section of the bill. [Associated Press Telegram] Columbus, Ohio, May 10.—The Ohio State Life Insurance company, the Midland Mutual Life Insurance company, and four other life insurance companies filed statements with the secretary of state under the lobby registration law declaring that they paid George S. Long, secretary to former Governor Harmon, a total of $150 for services as legislative agent for them. R. B. Ackerman of Gallien, legislative agent for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, filed a statement, giving $860 as the amount he received, $200 being paid for his services and the balance for expenses.

CHANGE OF VENUE SOUGHT BY FORMER BANK EXAMINER

[Associated Press Telegram] Columbus, O., May 10.—Clement S. Baxter of Lima, who was an examiner in the state banking department and who is on trial charged with having appropriated to his own use $3,140 from the defunct Columbus Savings and Trust company, today made application for a change of venue, declaring that he cannot have a fair trial in the county is impossible. He stated in his application that a fair trial in this county is impossible because 250 stockholders of the defunct bank and 5,000 depositors live in this county, and because of the wide publicity given in the case. The trial of Frank E. Baxter, his brother, who was state bank examiner, and who was charged with having appropriated $27,000 of the bank's money for his personal use, will be entered upon next Monday.

Quit Work in Response To Strike Order Issued Against Traction Company

[Associated Press Telegram] Cincinnati, O., May 10.—Cincinnati's street car service was in a decidedly crippled condition at noon today as the result of the strike of employees of the Cincinnati Traction company. The company admitted that two-thirds of their men have suspended work but claim that they are operating more than one-half of their cars. The strikers gained many additions to their strike during the morning and they predict that the tie-up of the cars will be complete before midnight. As yet there has been no violence but the inconvenience is being felt seriously by the public. Strike leaders claim that 1200 men out of the total of 1500 regulars have joined their ranks while the substitutes are coming over in large numbers. The police appear to have the situation fairly well in hand but are running their forces on double time in anticipation of trouble tonight. [Associated Press Telegram] Cincinnati, Ohio, May 10.—Additional men quit work today in response to the strike order issued yesterday against the Cincinnati Traction company, but the company claimed it was not inconvenienced and that schedules on all lines, except possibly two or three small lines, were being maintained. No disorder of any kind had been reported, except that incident to the men turning in cars at the barns and joining the strikers who went out last night. Rezin Orr, vice president of the Amalgamated Association of the Electric and Street Railway men, who is in charge of the strike, said 350 cars had been turned in at the different barns early today and that the crews joined the ranks of the strikers. He said he expected many more men to quit work during the day. WILL ATTEMPT TO SETTLE TROUBLE [Associated Press Telegram] Columbus, O., May 10.—Dennis H. Sullivan secretary of the state board of arbitration will go to Cincinnati either tomorrow or Monday in an attempt for a settlement in the street car men's strike in that city. He announced today so far he has not been asked by either side to take a hand in an attempt of settlement, but that he will consider it his duty to go to Cincinnati within the next two days even if not asked to do so.

SPECIAL CABINET MEETING

May be Called to Learn of Bryan's Conference With Jap Ambassador

THE VISCOUNT CHINDA

Waiting to Learn What United States Proposes to Do in the Matter of the California Alien Land Bill.

[Associated Press Telegram] Washington, May 10.—Secretary Bryan and Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, got down to business today at an early conference over the California alien-land bill. Japan's protest had been formally presented and the ambassador was waiting to learn what the United States proposed to do about the bill already passed by the California legislature and awaiting Governor Johnson's signature. Early today there was a prospect of a special cabinet meeting to afford Secretary Bryan an opportunity to lay before President Wilson and his colleagues the result of his further conference with the Japanese ambassador. The conference lasted an hour and at its conclusion Viscount Chinda paid a short visit to Counselor Moore. No statement was forthcoming as to what had taken place but it is known that having presented the views of his own government in objection to the California legislation as well as that of Arizona, the ambassador withdrew to await a formal answer from the state department. Before that is given, Secretary Bryan wishes to confer with President Wilson and, as the latter was on a trip to Mount Vernon, indications were that it would be late in the day, if not Monday morning before the conferences between the secretary and the ambassador could be resumed.

"CHUCK" CONNORS, FAMOUS BOWERY CHARACTER, DEAD

[Associated Press Telegram] New York, May 10.—"Chuck" Connors is dead. The picturesque character of the old bowery, best known perhaps as the "Mayor of Chinatown," died of heart disease in the Hudson street hospital today. The secrets of Chinatown's dark hallways, subterranean passages and hidden shadows had been his for many years. The veterans of its warring tongues the four brothers, the Hip Sing Tong and the Tong Tong, declared a truce when the news of his death became known and they will march shoulder to shoulder in a parade to honor his memory. "Chuck" Connors was 61 years old. Most of his life was spent in Chinatown. Of late he had made a living as guide to sight seeing parties visiting his camping grounds.

GOVERNOR COX TO LEAVE SUNDAY FOR WASHINGTON

[Associated Press Telegram] Columbus, Ohio, May 10.—Governor James M. Cox went to Dayton early today to give attention to matters of private business and accidentally to get there some information concerning the progress being made in overcoming the recent flood in that city. He will return to Columbus some time Sunday. According to the governor's plan he will leave Columbus at 5:30 Sunday evening for Washington to confer with President Wilson and Secretary of War Garrison concerning the recent flood and give his ideas as to what should be done to prevent a repetition of the disaster in the state. The governor is not expected to return to the executive offices before the middle of next week.

NEWARK MAN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Massillon, O., May 10.—J. W. Lescalloer of Newark, a B. & O. fireman, owes his life to a little puddle of water five inches deep. Lescalloer was on the running board of his engine adjusting the headlight, as it passed over a trestle spanning a gully here, when his foot slipped and he fell twenty-five feet, landing in the shallow pool. The water broke the fall on the sharp rocks which covered the bottom of the ravine and he escaped with a few bruises.

Fire At Lancaster Early This Morning Threatened To Destroy Entire Block

[Associated Press Telegram] Lancaster, O., May 10.—Fire which broke out in the Bletvacker Furniture store on South Broad street early this morning, for a time threatened to destroy the entire block. Persons at the Hotel Martens, which is just across the street from the burned district, discovered the fire, aroused the guests, who made a hasty retreat, some of them in scanty attire. The flames started in the center of the building occupied by the Bletvacker furniture store, from an unknown cause. The fire made quick headway as the buildings were all frame. The losses are estimated as follows: Edward Bletvacker, furniture dealer and undertaker, $5,000 on stock, Wm. Bletvacker, art store proprietor, $3,500 loss on stock and $3,000 on building occupied by Edward Bletvacker; Knights of Pythias, $3,000 on fixtures; Charles Fox stove and tinware dealer, loss on the stock and building $1,000; Frank Boyer, second hand dealer, loss on stock and buildings $1,500. All losses are covered by insurance.

KENTUCKY DERBY STARTS TODAY

[Associated Press Telegram] Louisville, Ky., May 10.—The thirty-ninth annual of the Kentucky Derby, one of the oldest classics of the American Turf, gave promise today of living up to its precedents both as to class of contenders and in point of attendance. With fair weather and a fast track indications were that three year old thoroughbreds that faced the barrier today would offer a stirring exhibition for the thousands of lovers of the sport who renewed their annual pilgrimage to Churchill Downs. Fountain, Ten Point, Yankee Notions, Jimmie Gill and Prince Hermis, were named early today as certain starters. Fountain, owned by C. A. McKenna appeared the favorite. The winner will get about $7,000. Always the meeting ground for society and sport, this year's derby promised as brilliant an assemblage as any of its predecessors. Prominent social leaders and followers of the turf from the eastern and southern capitals and from the west, supplemented the large contingent of the blue grass state's devotees and for thoroughbreds. While these were assembling on the club house verandas and in the grand stand, a crowd of less glamour but not less ardent devotion to the sport was gathered in the field enclosure, to which admittance was free, according to derby custom.

INSTITUTE FOR PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS

[Associated Press Telegram] Philadelphia, Pa., May 10.—The Phipps institute, a million dollar gift by Henry P. Phipps of New York to the University of Pennsylvania for the study and prevention of tuberculosis among the poor, was dedicated here today. The institution, one of the best equipped in the world for its special work, is situated in one of the slum sections of the city. Medical men and sociologists from all parts of the United States, scientists and philanthropists attended the dedication exercises held in one of the open air wards.

GASOLINE WAGONS GO UP IN SMOKE; LOSS OF $250,000

[Associated Press Telegram] Chicago, May 10.—Three south side garages containing 134 automobiles were destroyed by fire yesterday and today with a loss of nearly half a million dollars. The fires were caused by explosions of gasoline and Fire Attorney Jos. Murray has ordered an investigation. The fire caused fifty families to flee from their homes this morning, fearing the explosion of a tank containing a hundred gallons of gasoline, which was buried in the rear of the garage of the American Motor Livery company. The three story building and automobiles were destroyed by fire entailing a loss of $250,000.

"EVERS DAY" AT POLO GROUNDS

[Associated Press Telegram] New York, May 10.—Today was "Evers day" at the polo grounds—Johnny Evers' first appearance on the local diamond as manager of the Chicago Cubs. Secretary Foster of the New York club gave it out early that a high water mark for the sale of tickets for the year had been set and indications were that the New York's army of fans would turn out in overwhelming numbers to welcome him. Troy, N. Y., Evers' home town, sent hundreds of fans in straw hats to see the game. Every box seat and nearly every reserved seat in the upper grand stand were sold days ago and the remainder to be sold today were only the bleachers and a portion of the lower grand stand.

9 DEATHS RESULT FROM EPIDEMIC OF TONSILLITIS

[Associated Press Telegram] Canton, Mass., May 10.—Physicians here are at a loss to explain an epidemic of tonsillitis which has caused the death of nine persons within the last two weeks. Four hundred of the 3000 inhabitants are ill; all schools and public buildings have been closed and business is practically at a standstill. Fire which started in a waste paper basket on the rear porch at the home of S. L. Redman near Fourth and Locust streets burned a hole in the roof and damaged the lattice. The loss is estimated at $5 to $10.

MILITANTS STILL BUSY WITH BOMBS

Two More Discovered by Vigilant Officials This Morning

FUSE HAD BEEN LIGHTED

In One Placed in Busy Railroad Station — Electric Battery Connected to Other Addressed to Municipal Official.

[Associated Press Telegram] London, May 10.—Two more of the bombs with which the militant suffragettes are attempting to scare the British parliament into giving the parliamentary franchise to women were discovered this morning. One of them was found in the passengers waiting room at the busy Lima street railroad station in Liverpool, and the other in the sorting room of the post-office at Reading. The fuse of the Liverpool bomb had been lighted by the operator of the outrage but had died out before it reached the gun powder. The instrument of the intended destruction consisted of a tin tobacco box filled with gunpowder and iron nuts and the long fuse was laid in the center. The Reading machine was wrapped in a bulky parcel to which the attention of the postoffice employees were attracted by the sound of ticking. The police were called in and on examination found that the parcel contained an electric battery connected with explosives and accompanied by quantities of suffragette literature. The parcel was addressed to a municipal official of Reading now on his vacation. The police express the belief that it was timed to explode in his residence during his absence. The clock work arrangement was in perfect working order. In view of the possibility of further attacks by the "wild women" on the churches many historical edifices throughout the country which during the season are usually visited by thousands of Americans and other tourists have been ordered closed except during the hours of service. Farrington hall, the residence of Henry McGrady, former Lord Provost of Dundee, was destroyed by fire early this morning. Indications point to the militant suffragette as the authors of the outrage. Flames broke out simultaneously in half a dozen places in the famous hall which was a beautiful specimen of architecture. It was being prepared for occupation during the summer by the owner and his family. [Associated Press Telegram] Manchester, Eng., May 10.—James Whitley, secretary of the printing firm responsible for the last issue of the Suffragette, was brought up in police court today and remanded for trial. The magistrate allowed him bail on his promise not to publish any further editions of the militant newspaper.

Amalgamation With The Republicans Impossible Says Progressive Leader

[Associated Press Telegram] Columbus, May 10.—"Amalgamation of the Progressive and Republican parties is in my judgment impossible," was the opening sentence in a statement given out today by Walter F. Brown of Toledo, state chairman of the Progressive party and Ohio member of the National committee of that party. The statement was drawn out by the get-together movement inaugurated by Republican and Progressive members of the legislature which recently adjourned and in which movement some of the Progressive leaders including Dan R. Hana of Cleveland, and some of the Republican state leaders have been active for the past fortnight. It had been expected that there would be an early conference in this city of leaders of the two parties with a view to re-organizing in Ohio with a view to a one party basis, but the date for this had not been definitely fixed. Mr. Brown has been in New York in close touch with the Progressive national headquarters for some days. Mr. Brown's statement follows: "Amalgamation between the Progressive and Republican parties, in my judgment, is impossible. Judged by their party platforms, as well as by the public acts of their leaders, they stand for totally different things. Four years ago, when the Payne-Aldrich tariff iniquity was forced on the country by the standpat wing of the Republican party, the insurgent movement in congress was born. The Progressive party is the lineal descendant of that insurgent movement. Today it numbers in its ranks, not merely insurgent Republicans, but thousands of former Democrats and independent voters. It stands not only against the exploitation of the masses by tariff duties for the benefit of special privilege, but for equality of opportunity and genuine rule of the many. It measures the prosperity of the country, not by the amount of bank earnings, but by the health and happiness of all its men, women and children. "On the other hand, the Republican party today, with a few conspicuous exceptions, who will soon find their position untenable, is made up of standpatters who would solve the problems of the present and future by some role of thumb of the past, men who believe that the masses can prosper only by the crumbs which fall from rich men's tables; men who convinced that the people are unfit to govern themselves, cynically denounce the initiative, referendum and recall, and by the use of patronage and other devices of the boss system, brazenly overrule the verdict of popular primaries; men who interpret the constitution, not to establish justice, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1.)

Willie Kohlemainen, Greatest Distance Runner

Willie Kohlemainen, the second brother of the famous family of Finnish distance runners, only recently attested his right to be called the greatest professional distance runner in the world by beating a field of nine of the fastest runners in America in the fifteen-mile championship race of the Monument club held in New York on May 4.

Kohlemainen, like his brother Hannes, who won the principal honors at the Olympic games at Stockholm last summer, is a running machine, though by long odds not as pretty a runner as the younger Kohlemainen.

Willie goes into every race facing the prospect of losing a whole spongeful of blood. His early exertions in running a distance always start his nose bleeding and often the blood drips as long as he continues to run. In his recent championship performance in New York, Kohlemainen's nose bled from the time he passed two miles until he had run eight.

Columbus High School Players Ordered Suspended

Columbus, May 10. Eight Columbus High school stars were suspended yesterday following a meeting of the principals of the different high schools of the city when charges of professionalism were made. They are: Captain Chick Harley of East Shortstop Waring of East, catcher Chas. of North, Captain Gaulke of South, Third Baseman Ewing of South, Outfielder Koetz of South, Catcher Rice of Aquinas, Catcher Owens of West.

The notice of the suspension of the players charged them with violation of the rules of the Ohio Athletic association, an organization which controls the High school athletics of the state. It is claimed that they have been playing with semi-pros and have followed the suspension of Pitcher Bateman of the High school of Commerce for playing last Sunday with Grove City.

Every team in the Senior High School league is now hit hard by the suspensions. Harley and Waring of East are considered two of the best infielders in the league. Harley is captain of the team and is also a football star. Their loss comes hard at this time, as Ewing was scheduled to play North this afternoon.

Most of the players are well known in Newark, several of them having taken prominent parts in football and basketball against the Newark teams.

Harold Gaulke is a football, basketball and baseball star at South, where he is generally considered the best all-around athlete turned out in years by that school. He catches for his team. Ewing has been playing different positions on the infield while Koetz is an outfielder. Gheen of North, Rice of Aquinas and Owens of West are all catchers.

FIND ADVOCATE EXTRA PRINTED ON APR. 3, 1875

A curio in the way of a copy of an extra edition of the Advocate of Saturday, April 3, 1875, is in the possession of Mr. George Bickel of Wilson street. The extra is only two columns wide and eleven inches long and was gotten out on account of the burning of the court house. The extra was the property of the late Mr. George Bickel, who was secretary of the volunteer fire department at the time, and was found by the present Mr. Bickel in going over some old documents belonging to his father. The court house burned on Saturday morning at two o'clock, April 3, 1875. All the valuable papers were saved, but the building was destroyed.

AMALGAMATION

and our prosperity, but to promote and protect special privilege.

"In the face of such essential differences, for progressive leaders to attempt to deliver the rank and file of their party into the standpat camp would be as futile as it would be treacherous.

"Every casual observer of politics has known that for several years there has been no substantial difference between the Republican and Democratic parties. Each has had its share of progressives, and each its share of standpatters. Such a condition could not long endure. The masses of the people cannot be permanently interested in a contest merely for the spoils of politics.

"Today a division exists in the Democratic party just as certainly as it existed in the Republican party before the Progressives left it. Of course, at present the most conspicuous thing to Democratic eyes is the pie counter. Whatever differences Democrats may have, they have none in regard to the desirability of pie. But once the pie is distributed, the line of cleavage must surely appear, with the progressive Democrats on one side and the standpat Democrats on the other. It follows logically that all progressives, I use the word in the broad sense, must some day make common sense and all standpatters likewise. We shall then have in this country, as in all other countries which are governed by parties, a liberal, or progressive party and a conservative, or standpat party. Just what party labels they will ultimately carry, of course, no one can say, but of this I am certain, that the rank and file of the progressive party, as it is constituted today, will be found on one side, and the rank and file of the Republican party, as it is constituted today, will be found on the other.

"In pointing out the incompatibility of the Republican and Progressive parties, it is not necessary to dwell upon the fact that the election laws of Ohio make party mergers impracticable. All nominations must now be made, and all party committees selected by party primaries. Republicans are prohibited from participating in Republican primaries. There could be no legal merger.

"It is significant that the demand for amalgamation comes with substantial unanimity from Republicans. Progressives, generally, are satisfied with the progress their party has made in less than a year. They are already the second party in the country, and while they have elected but few candidates, legislatures in the control of both of the old parties have been vying with each other throughout the country to enact into law many of the salient features of the progressive platform.

"The Progressive party in state, party and nation, will go forward. Our organizers are at work, and are meeting with encouragement wherever they go. If here and there an individual, impatient for the rewards of political victory, falls out of the ranks, we are certain that the gap will be instantly filled with scores of voters who have been standing aloft to make absolute certain that the Progressive party is wholly sincere and free from every taint of special privilege.

"Time is money," quoted the Wise Guy. "Yes, but we have to spend one to get the other," added the Simple Mug.

It takes a mighty smart man to know enough to conceal what he does not know.

To Prevent Floods

THOSE WHO ADVOCATE bringing the organization and equipment now finishing the Panama Canal to the United States for river improvement ought to take advantage of the floods in the Central West to strengthen their argument. The distinction—enforced by the Constitution—between what a state can do and what a nation can do is a powerful obstacle in the way of doing what is sensible. There are few episodes in Washington more discouraging than to see men whose intelligence is as high as that of Senator John Sharp Williams and Senator Burton spending several days in debating to find out whether building a levee is meant to improve navigation (which the nation can do), or to protect farm lands (which the Constitution says only the states can do). Anybody who understands the present temper of the people, and sympathizes with the American passion for directness and effectiveness, will not be shocked by the prediction that many of our constitutional rigidities are going to be loosened up by a general revision within a short time.

—Editor's Weekly, April 26, 1913

The answer: Use it to improve the rivers in flood stricken Ohio

Those who suffered in the recent floods—and that includes nearly everybody in the state—will be negligent of their plain duty if they fail to improve the present opportunity to gain government action along lines of river betterment.

Four hundred and fifty-six of Ohio's citizens lie dead, and hundreds of millions in property is lost forever as the result of floods. These dead will have died in vain and all this property will have been lost without the teaching of a lesson unless these deaths and these great sacrifices stir the people of this state to the high resolve to guard against such calamity in the future.

The way is clear. The task of so improving the rivers that another flood will be impossible is manifestly too great for the limited strength and resources of the people in the affected districts. It is a work that should be done by the government, and it is a work that will be done by the government if the people of this state will do their part toward rousing the direct representatives of the government to a sense of their duty and responsibility.

The argument has been made that perhaps it would be "unconstitutional" for the government to take a hand in this purely local enterprise; but the "constitutional" argument is about worn threadbare in this country. It has been brought out and flaunted in the faces of all who sought reform until the very mention of it is wearying to all right thinking people. There are millions of Americans who believe that if it is found that the constitution stands in the way of progress it is the part of wisdom and common sense to alter or amend the constitution.

Ohio has sent her duly elected representatives to Washington to sit in the federal Congress and to look after the needs of this state. Right now the most pressing need of this state is a guarantee against a repetition of the floods that laid our fair and prosperous valleys in ruins and sent 456 of our best citizens to untimely and undeserved graves.

It is up to you, Mr. Citizen, to make it apparent to your Senator and representative in Congress that any compromise on this issue will not be tolerated, and that any explanation or excuse for failure to get results will not be accepted.

Write to your Congressman.

J. F. YAUS HAS ERECTED NEW AND UP-TO-DATE PLANT

A new three-story concrete block building at 90 Notion avenue provides a new home for J. F. Yaus, manufacturer of cigars and stogies. The building was completed about two weeks ago and the work of making cigars and stogies was started about ten days ago. Already about 25 people are given employment in the place.

Mr. Yaus recently disposed of his interest in the Yaus Brothers' factory to Harry Swisher and immediately commenced work on a new structure. The three floors and basement are all in use.

The packing and shipping room is on the first floor with Mr. Yaus' offices. On the second floor is located the manufacturing department where twenty cigar and stogie makers are employed. The third floor furnishes a large space for drying tobaccos.

A large basement with a cement floor provides ample storage space for the surplus stock, of which there is a large quantity.

TOMORROW IS MOTHER'S DAY

Sunday, May 11, will be observed the country over as Mother's Day. White carnations, the symbol of the occasion, will be worn by thousands as a tribute of special esteem to their mothers. Every clergyman in Newark will doubtless make some reference to the occasion and its import. Governor Cox has announced the date to the people of Ohio by proclamation.

Mothers living or dead will be the particular object of memory, revivification or communion tomorrow. In many cities throughout the country, appropriate exercises were held in the public schools out of deference to mothers. On this day those having mothers living are supposed to make it their duty to call upon them or send messages of greeting and good cheer.

GOV. COX'S FIGHT FOR THE WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT.

On the day that he learned that agents of the Liability Insurance companies were sending out petitions to initiate a workmen's compensation law that will be satisfactory to those private interests, Governor Cox fired this broadside at the opponents of the Green Compulsory Workmen's Compensation act, which passed both houses of the general assembly without a negative vote being cast against it:

"Under the Green bill the workman or his family gets a definite sum. Under the insurance plan the workmen would not get a large amount. He gets a law suit for a larger amount.

"We welcome the fight. It will be a summer well spent in convincing these interests that the same public opinion which procured the passage of the workmen's compensation law without one dissenting vote in either house of the general assembly, will determine the result at the polls in a manner as unsatisfactory to the liability companies as the present Green bill is."

OHIO'S MOVEMENT FOR GOOD ROADS.

A statement which has been issued from the headquarters of the Ohio Good Road's Federation in Columbus reads:

"The Democratic legislature and Governor Cox can take full credit for having inaugurated a movement which will lead to the holding of a National Rural Life and Good Road's Congress in Columbus and the formation of a country-wide organization for the promotion of these two important branches of American life.

"The movement had its inception with the enactment of the one-half mill levy bill for road improvements in Ohio by the general assembly. This placed the state at once in the forefront in the matter of better roads work. No sooner had it become a law than Jesse Taylor, president of the Ohio Good Roads Federation, was called to Kansas City to consult with Judge J. L. Lowe, president of the Old Trails Ocean to Ocean Highways Association, relative to Good Roads work.

"As Ohio has taken the lead in the Good Roads movement and as part of an extensive program, the Ohio Good Roads Federation will perfect Good Roads clubs in all its larger cities and counties. These will be affiliated with the Ohio Good Roads Federation. For this important work, Z. D. Dunlap, of Kansas City, has been selected and he is now on the job. He will be assisted by E. J. Herman, of Boston, also an experienced man in the work of road club organization. It is believed that twenty thousand members can be secured, and the proceeds from the membership fees will be devoted entirely to the promotion of highway work. The organization work is to be extended to all states, so that it is seen that Governor Cox and the legislature, through the enactment of good roads legislation, started a movement which is to be nation-wide."

One of the noteworthy and favorable signs of the times is set forth in a late report of the New York College of Agriculture, showing that 50 per cent. of the students come from the cities. More and more the compelling need of finding something worth while for the overstock of city boys to do is turning attention landward. It is better and more profitable to dig the land for a living than to take the chance of the shops. To know how to farm a farm is therefore the best education.

We shall have plenty of bread if drought, chinch bugs, rust, floods and a few other things do not interfere. The condition of winter wheat is above the figures of a month ago, and it is remarkable that the crop should have kept up to such a standard as that of the growing wheat at the end of a winter like the last one. Its condition May 1 was much better than the average of ten years, and very far better than a year ago, yet the winter wheat actually harvested last year was about 400,000,000 bushels.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

The act of the baseball trainer who resented the fighting word aroused amazement. In baseball circles the fighting word is the mildest form of reproach.

There are all kinds of people, including those who consider it a personal vindication if Hicks predicted it.

The fact that there is no credit in whipping a little man accounts for a good many of the bluffs that go unchallenged.

In case you have no opportunity to note a man's demeanor at a ball game, observe the vaudeville act which inspires his laughter. That is another of the infallible tests of character.

There still are a few who construe the assimilative capacity necessary to drink the balance of the crowd under the table as an achievement.

Men excel women in the respect that a part of what they know is true.

A woman often expresses her sense of humor in the selection of a husband.

A woman has a good deal of influence with a man. If a wife is persistent enough about it her husband finally will change his underclothing.

Do you confuse your definitions? A friend is one for whom you wish to do something, and not one whom you expect to do something for you.

Beauty may be naked. Indecency often is fully clothed.

There is a good deal of junk in every store of information.

Art may also be briefly described as another excuse for raising the price of admission.

THE FUTURE

(By Mary Edithworth Fuller)
The darkened brain attempts in vain
To gaze upon portals of light,
But the spirit eyes in soul disguise
Is all that can perceive the light.

Then why does man when ere he can Turn from truth divine,
When he knows well, there is no hell
And that brotherly love is sublime.

He gropes along in the mighty throng
Seeking for wiser things
Why not be content with the souls suppliment.
And let the creative power remove all stings.

This life is but a saddened dream,
Take it at the best,
There will be Judah's speak and
Satan's scorch.

No matter what's the rest,
No know we've had the past, the present is on its hike;
And when it comes to Judah's, Satans,
angels or saints,
"Death meets them all alike."

Wednesday at Erman's drug store.

There is being installed in the manual training shop a new machine called a "jointer." The department has been handicapped for some time because of the lack of such a machine.

Mr. Painter took the contract of making the teachers' desks for the new school buildings, providing a jointer would be secured. The school board agreed to the proposition, since the desks will not cost more than to buy them outright and the school will have the needed jointer in the bargain.

The Science club met Friday evening.

Prof. J. H. Dickason of the Latin department of Wooster University visited the high school Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Herbert Patterson, formerly of the high school faculty, and the debating coach, now an attorney of Cleveland, renewed old acquaintances at the school Friday. He is associated with Harry F. Pryor, 1013 Williamson building. In addition to his law practice he is attending Western Reserve, where he will be the recipient of the degree LL.B. next June.

State High School Inspector Oliver stopped off for an hour on his way to Granville Friday and looked over the high school. It is his intention to spend an entire day in the high school some time in the near future.

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

INDIFFERENCE
Oh, well, I don't care if they fuss with the tariff and knock all the schedules sky high. I'll tend to my knitting and just keep on hitting my trusty old garden for what it can raise. That moldy old question won't spoil my digestion or cause me to lose half a minute of sleep. With pigs to be tended and sheds to be mended, oh, why should I worry or argue or weep? I see many neighbors neglecting their labors to prove that the tariff is noxious and rank; and while they are fussing and pawing and cussing I carry a package of bones to the bank. I see many alecks, old grass-nourished relics, debating the duties on sheepskins and salt, and while they are spilling your uncle is wheeling a barrow of boodle to put in the vault. I see many fellows exhausting their bellows, explaining free trade as a thing that is fine, and while they are yawning I keep on a napping and pickle the marks and the kroners in brine. Oh, cut out the fooling and mooning and drooling o'er tariffs and duties and schedules and such, and labor like thunder and salt down the plunder where moths won't corrupt it, and soon you'll be rich.

Many Sessions Are Necessary; Bacon Takes Issue With Hill

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 10.—[Special.]—As answering the challenge of James J. Hill, who was recently quoted as saying that the country would be much better off if congress would adjourn for ten years, Senator Bacon of Georgia said on the floor of the senate that if "congress does its full duty, transacts the pressing public business necessary for this great government, attends to all the work it should do, the days of short sessions and long congressional recesses have gone forever."

No doubt hundreds of men, rich, but not so rich as Hill, heartily endorse what the railroad magnate says, but the people will endorse Bacon. In the struggle for English liberty it was finally found necessary to compel the meeting of parliaments instead of having long periods when the government was in the hands of a few persons. Instead of nine months of vacation we now have extra sessions to look after the pressing business.

Mann Was Satisfied.

Minority Leader Mann had no desire to break the solid Democratic phalanx which put through the tariff bill. In this he and Leader Underwood were in perfect accord, but for entirely different reasons. Underwood believed that an unbroken front was a good thing for his party. Mann believed that with all the Democrats standing together for the tariff the Republicans will have better campaign material next year, especially if the new tariff proves unsatisfactory. And the Republicans are counting on that confidently.

Something About Himself.

There are members of congress who can't tell all they want to about themselves in the congressional biographies, so they have more to tell in the house. Congressman Kindell of Denver enlivened the tariff debate by becoming personal in his remarks.
"I discovered two Republican postmasters in my district," said he, "with 100 per cent records for efficiency, whom I am urging for reappointment in spite of the opposition of my colleagues and the postmaster general. Let the meat ticket mugwump Democratic take heed of the fate which befell my predecessor." He was referring to former Congressman Rucker. "He failed to do what I told him, and I said we would have to get some one else to run against him, but I had to run myself on the Prohibition ticket. I am a German and drink beer. With a glass of beer in one hand and a Carle Nation batcher in the other I got 17,000 votes. Last fall the people re-elected my protection Democrat predecessor and elected me by more than 3,000 over the state and national tickets."

Friendly Feeling For the House.

It takes quite a long time for former members of the senate promoted to the house to get over their friendly feelings toward the lower body. John Sharp Williams nearly always champions the house. So does Norris of Nebraska. Others who have had longer service seem to have forgotten what a good time they had in the house.

For His Constituents.

The senate was talking about stationery account of members of the house when Senator Norris explained that stationery cost more than the allowance. "I wore out on an average more than one typewriter every year while a member of the house." That rather checked up the talk, as senators do not pay for typewriters.

The Wealthy Farmers.

There is a deal of crying out in behalf of the farmer among members of congress, but once in awhile members brag about the tillers of the soil. When they talked tariff and the farm they disclosed some interesting facts.
"I saw in the paper the other day," said that staunch protectionist, Fordney of Michigan, "that a farmer in Illinois went to town taking a dozen hogs to market in an automobile and took home $480 in cash."

"The farmers all own automobiles in my state," said Jim Mann.

"Under our Republican laws," went on Fordney, "the farmers are rich."

"They have all got money in the bank," said Madden of Chicago.

"In a little town of 4,000 people in my state," said Payne of New York, "most of them are farmers, and by actual count it was found that 300 automobiles were owned in the place."

House Members Absent.

No one expects the members of the house will remain in Washington very much for several weeks. While the tariff bill is in the senate, they are expected to absent themselves, unless President Wilson determines to have currency legislation considered. All the house leaders are advising against currency legislation. They want nothing to interfere with the tariff. And when that is through they want to adjourn.

Constipation Cured.

Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve constipation promptly and get your bowels in healthy condition again. John Supsic, of Sunbury, Pa., says: "They are the best pills I ever used, and I advise everyone to use them for constipation, indigestion and liver complaint." Will help you. Price 25c. ## HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Value of Deep Breathing.
A normal person with well developed lungs should be able to expand the chest about four inches while taking a deep breath. Life insurance companies, as a rule, require an expansion of at least three inches. Many people are surprised that they have an expansion of only two or in some cases one inch.
It is a fact that only about one person in a hundred breathes correctly. Many of the common ailments of life are due to improper breathing. One may be truly starving for oxygen although surrounded by pure fresh air.

One great benefit derived from exercise is in the increased activity of the lungs. A person taking active exercise finds it necessary to take deep breaths of air in order to supply the increased demands of the system. Those who find it impossible to take active exercise can derive much benefit from breathing exercises. People who are engaged in sedentary occupations unconsciously form a habit of using only a portion of their lungs. Such would be benefited by voluntarily taking deep breathing exercises. But these should be taken regularly and systematically. One plan is to walk a portion of the way to the office and while walking take deep breaths and hold them while taking ten or twelve steps. Gradually lengthen the time of holding the full breath. Another plan is to stand at the open window every morning and evening and take from ten to twenty deep breaths. One will find at first that either of these will tire him as any other new exercise would do. It is surprising the increased capacity for work that will follow.

If you are spring-sick, weak, tired, feel worn-out when you wake in the morning, have no appetite and no ambition, Nature is by these symptoms telling you that you need the best spring medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla fills every requirement. Thousands agree with us and are taking it every day.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Lively Buntie Had to Reform.

THE children said, "Now, daddy, it's time for our story."
"And what am I to tell you?" daddy asked.
"Tell us about little Buntie," suggested Jack.
"Yes," urged Evelyn; "we haven't had a story about pussies for a long time."

"Well," agreed daddy, "I'll begin by saying that Buntie got her funny name because she was so fond of playing with strings. She was named after a funny young lady in a play who also was fond of strings."

"The strings would have done little harm perhaps if Buntie had just kept to them. True, sometimes Buntie's fond mistress would find the cat coughing violently and with an end of pink twine hanging out of her mouth."

"Then Buntie's mistress would hurriedly pull the piece of pink twine up and up out of Buntie's little throat until the other end was reached. Buntie would give a sigh of relief and hurry off under the sofa or into some dark corner until she got over her surprise."

"After a time Buntie learned not to swallow long strings, but that was not until she learned to chase dogs."

"There was a hungry little dog who sometimes came around the kitchen door looking for scraps who first taught Buntie to chase dogs. Perhaps at some time this dog had been chased by a cross cat and so was afraid of all cats afterward. At any rate, whenever Buntie came out the dog would yelp and fly home, and Buntie enjoyed chasing after it."

"One day a saucy little fox terrier came along with his master. The dog trotted up through Buntie's yard, and the cat saw him."

"Buntie started to chase the dog, but the fox terrier turned on her with a fierce bark. The fox terrier wasn't the kind of dog that ran away from cats."

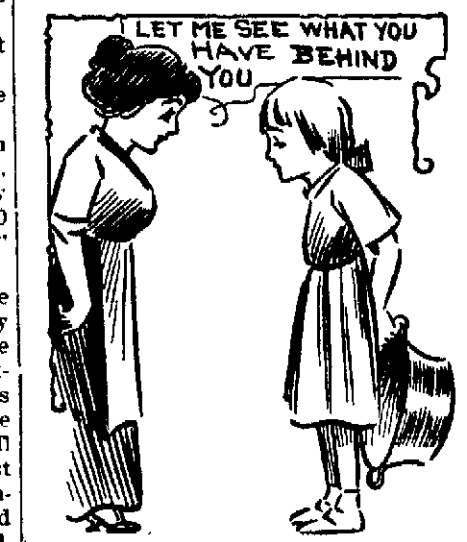

"Buntie saw the dog was in earnest and made a mad rush for a tree. She never stopped till she reached the very top limb of the tree, and there she sat and meowed and meowed until Buntie's folks paid the little boy next door a quarter to go up the tree and bring her down. They thought Buntie couldn't get down by herself."

"Buntie just looked at the little boy scornfully when he got to the top of the tree. She seemed to say, 'Yes; it's such as you who keep dogs to scare poor cats out of sight of their nine lives.'"

"Then Buntie calmly walked down the tree alone, and since then Buntie has quit chasing dogs."

"When they come into her yard she flies up on one of the wide windowsills, where people in the house can see her and come to her aid."

WHAT IS IT?

What composer?

Answer to Friday's puzzle—Richard.

Little is known of the Bulgars, but the fact that the bagpipe is their national instrument indicates that they are not a musical people.

The tide from Italy to America in 1911 is figured at 5,000,000.

A Foundation of Homes

Is the base upon which rests the great pyramid of savings typified by the above triangle.

You know without our telling it that no better security for savings has ever been devised than first mortgages on homes, when those mortgages are conservatively placed and properly safeguarded as to legal technicalities, perfection of title and so on as our mortgages are.

Why not put YOUR savings where they will have this security?

CONVENTION OF LICKING COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Will Be Held in This City May 23-24
at The First M. E. Church—
Prominent Men Coming.

It is a common suggestion that this is an age of specialists. Any person with appreciative observation and ordinary application may know a little about many things, but it is he who has concentrated his effort and knows much about a few things, that we want to hear, if he labors in the same field with us. The people of any given pursuit come together in conventions to discuss things of common interest and hear those who have made a special study of their line of work. We have conventions of farmers, of doctors, merchants, teachers, etc. These are all wholesome in the fellowship they offer, in unifying effort and in setting up a higher standard. This is the motive back of the County Sunday School convention to be held in Newark, May 23 and 24.

Pate to attend a State convention, that they might hear these leaders, if it were possible for them to do so, but some how when these same speakers are brought to our County convention, our Sunday school people lose some interest in hearing them. We can't afford to do this. You ought to hear every lecture and be in every session. They will open new fields to you, broaden your vision of the work and untangle many problems, that have bothered you. You never can apply all they give you, but they will inspire you and convince you there is much in your own field yet uncultivated. Licking county has had a reputation for strong conventions. Keep this one up to the standard. The increased activity along church and Sunday school lines, both in the city and country during the past year should express itself in a splendid County convention. We hope you are arranging to be here. Bring it up in your school and churches and urge many to come. It will help your local work and make our convention stronger. Remember the time and place.

MAY RESUME THE SUNDAY DELIVERY AT POSTOFFICE

Again the activity of Ohioans seems about to gain recognition from the federal government, since it has been signified from postoffice headquarters that congress is soon to take up the matter of re-opening Sunday postal delivery out of recognition of a petition with fifty thousand signatures, which was started in Canton, O., a few months ago. The movement originated with the commercial travelers' organization in Canton and the petition, which required twenty-one pounds of paper to accommodate the names, has been received by authorities in Washington. In brief, it requests the postoffice department to rescind its comparatively recent ruling by which Sunday delivery of mail matter was shut off a few months ago.

FOR SALLOW, WRINKLED, FRECKLED, PIMPLED SKIN.

(From Woman's Home Journal). If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercurized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercurized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results. If bothered with wrinkles or crow's feet, a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel will prove remarkably effective. (Advertisement).

The world has more use for the cheerful idiot than for the melancholy sage.

LABOR NEWS

Remember the regular meeting of the Newark Trades Assembly tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

The arbitration committee will have some very interesting business handed to it tomorrow and perhaps make a report about some important matters. The Labor Day committee made a short report and asked for more time. They will have some outline for the celebration the first Monday in September.

The last session of the assembly, April 27, was a hummer in point of numbers and interest manifested.

The vigilance committee, added to the work of assembly, is already bearing fruit. A large bunch of communications was read by Secretary Johnson. One from a district council of a craft referred to the press committee to have same printed in the daily papers. The writer could not comply with the request for two or three reasons which will be explained at tomorrow's meeting.

Through a prevailing motion the following brothers were appointed on the memorial committee: Fulk, Beech, Evans, Strett, Denny, Trout, Wise, Coen and Adams.

PRESS COMMITTEE.

G. A. R. GATHERING WASHINGTON C. H. JUNE 16 TO 20

Ex-Senator Joseph B. Foraker has accepted the invitation to address his old comrades at Washington C. H. during the State G. A. R. Encampment June 16 to 20.

Other speakers invited and expected to attend are Governor Cox, Senator Kern of Indiana, Congressman Sherwood of Ohio, Gen. R. B. Brown of Zanesville, Col. John McElroy of Washington, D. C., National Commander-in-Chief Alfred R. Beers of Connecticut, Senators LaFollette, Beveridge, Pomerene, Burton, Ollie James, Congressman Gardner of Maine, and Corporal Tanner of Washington, D. C.

The program will be the best in a great many years and many from this neighborhood will attend.

Little Willie overheard his father speaking of some one who had been weighed in the balance and found wanting. "I guess maybe he forgot to drop a penny in the slot," suggested Willie.

If Hair's Your Pride Use HERPICIDE

Persons who use Newbro's Herpicide and use it intelligently are satisfied. These results are frequently of such surprising nature as to be almost past belief.

READ SOME EXPERIENCES OF THOSE WHO KNOW

I have been using Herpicide for about four years and consider it the most delightful hair dressing in the world. I have a fine head of hair five feet long and feel sure that it's healthy condition depends largely upon the frequent application of Newbro's Herpicide.

MRS. C. W. BLAISDELL,
Concord, N. H. 15 Green St.

I have tried almost every known remedy in the last ten years for loss of hair. Herpicide is the only one that ever cured the dandruff and the loss of hair.

C. O. HOUSTON,
Lewisburg, Tenn.

Your Herpicide has proved a treasure. My daughter three years old was afflicted very badly with dandruff, but Herpicide has entirely eliminated the trouble and her hair is growing so fast. I use it constantly and have found it very beneficial for all ailments of the scalp.

MRS. A. W. CLAXON,
Walla Walla, Wash. 1212 University st.

Eradicating the dandruff, checking the loss of hair, stopping the itching and keeping the scalp clean and sanitary are the rewards that come to users of this well-known scalp prophylactic. The hair becomes light, fluffy and luxuriant. It radiates health and beauty, adds charm and attractiveness and an appearance of youthfulness.

But that isn't all. After an application of Newbro's Herpicide there is a sense of cleanliness, a feeling of comfort and satisfaction that makes one wonder why the care of the hair is so often neglected.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE in it's astonishing efficiency, is both a surprise and a pleasure.

We will leave the hall at 7:15 sharp, as the services commence at 7:30. The services will be held at the Church of Christ on Fourth street. Every member who reads this will understand how earnestly we desire a large attendance.

The committees appointed by the several branches of our order have done their part and now it is up to each member to attend. Make it a point to be present. Invite others you may meet. Visiting members in our city cordially invited.

Duer, John Ankele, W. V. Jordan, M. C. Reek, Geo. Crissman, Robert Darnes, Thos. Allen, D. Rielly and Ralph Yantz. The Minstrel committee is doing fine work and no doubt the Charity Minstrels will be a booming success. Bro. Ray Martin made an eloquent address, depicting the misery of our southern Zancillees, the shipment of stoves, furniture, bedding and clothing was shipped to our suffering neighbors. The team is requested to be present Wednesday evening without fail as there will be a large class of about 60 to be initiated Thursday evening. Now Brothers, boost for the big show.

Newark Lodge, No. 13, K. of P.
Newark lodge met Thursday night with good attendance. The team was ready to confer the Page Rank, but some of the candidates could not be present and it was decided to confer the Page Rank next Thursday night.
Brother B. O. Horton was recommended for Deputy Grand Chancellor for the ensuing term.

A number of visitors responded with remarks under the good of the order, among them being Brother Rev. E. B. He extended an invitation to the K. of P. lodges to attend services at the First Congregational church next Sunday night and the lodge accepted and arrangements were made to meet at the hall at 6:30 next Sunday evening, and attend in a body with our sister lodge, Rowland.

Now Brothers, let us have a good turnout. Brother Clark is a fine speaker and will have a good message for us. We made a fine showing during the tabernacle meetings and we can do it again, so do not fail to attend.

Rebekahs.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SCALP DISEASE

"I have had twenty years of dandruff on my scalp for years. I have doctored with several doctors, but without permanent good results. The first time I used Goodhair Soap my hair came out in patches as large as silver half dollar. I was scared and thought I wouldn't have any hair left."

the soap I was told I should use. I was only the dead hairs that had come away. I continued to use the Soap, and not after three months, all those bald spots were covered with a good growth of hair better than ever. I have Eczema, and my scalp never itches.

Yours respectfully,

Roland Lodge, K. of P.
The Page rank was conferred upon four candidates last Tuesday night by Roland lodge, No. 305. One candidate was balloted upon and elected. H. S. Kirkpatrick was unanimously recommended for lodge deputy for the coming year, and the recommendation which is equivalent to appointment, was mailed to Grand Master-elect, H. S. Kirkpatrick of Wapaketa, Ohio. Fifty dollars was also sent to G. K. R. & S. Beatty for the relief of worthy brothers who suffered from the recent big flood. The Memorial committee reported that Judge Nicholas of Coshocton had been selected to deliver the address on Memorial Sunday, which will probably be the first Sunday in June, although the date has not been definitely decided. Judge Nicholas is an able speaker and all loyal Knights should endeavor to turn up and hear him, and also pay a tribute to the memory of our departed brethren.

Brother E. E. Clark, of Hilltop lodge, No. 9, Pittsburg, Pa., who is to fill the pulpit of the First Congregational church tomorrow (Sunday) was present and gave an inspiring talk along the lines of Pythianism. Brother Clark is an orator of no mean ability and a gentleman whom it is a pleasure to meet. He extended an invitation to all Knights to attend services at his church Sunday night, and, on motion he was given a rising vote of thanks and the invitation accepted. A delegation of the city, members of both local lodges, and all visiting brethren are to meet at the castle hall at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night and go to hear the reverend brother. Brother Clark is a Past Chancellor and was state chaplain of the Uniform Rank of Pennsylvania, and is a booster for the principles of Pythianism. Now, brothers, make an extra effort to show Rev. Mr. Clark that his work as a Pythian is appreciated, also as a matter of courtesy and be on hand tomorrow night.

A number of Roland's friends attended the funeral of Gellie Flohr Friday afternoon and held the K. O. Theta, grave

THOUGHT NEWARK SUFFERED FROM RECENT FLOOD

Echoes of the flood develop every day in this city, particularly with reference to the dispatch which, through an error in transmission by telephone, stated that Newark was a heavy sufferer from the waters encroachments in the business district.

Saturday morning a letter addressed to the flood relief committee, Newark, O., was delivered to Mayor F. M. Swartz. The letter was from Mrs. L. C. Duncan of Boise, Idaho. She asked the "relief committee" for information regarding the family of Samuel and Ellen Ford.

The letter stated that no word had been received from the Ford family since the flood and efforts to establish communication with them had failed. Mayor Swartz stated an investigation which developed the fact Samuel and Ellen Ford had lived at 33 Wright street, over the Granville street hill. He also learned that they recently removed to Huntsville, Ala.

This information was conveyed to Mrs. Duncan in a letter from the Mayor's office. The letter also stated that Newark suffered no damage of any consequence from the high waters, when compared with the losses sustained in other cities.

WEATHER MAN PREDICTS DROP IN TEMPERATURE

Vagaries of the weather man made themselves evident Saturday, when individuals who refused to admit that summer isn't altogether here were seen walking about the streets in straw hats and short sleeves along side of more conservative Newarkites who donned overcoats, heavier headgear, and in some instances heavier underclothing. Temperature's drop of the past few days is scheduled to stay for a while, according to the weather report from Washington, Saturday, which predicts a light frost for Central Ohio Saturday night.

THE RAWLINGS MUSIC CO.

4 NORTH PARK PLACE, NEWARK, OHIO

In Society

The Newark High School chorus will give a cantata on May 13 for the benefit of the White Athletic field. The cantata "Bethany" will be sung. This cantata has been practiced by the chorus the entire year, and credit has been given each one of chorus and to Prof. Kloppe, the instructor. The chorus consists of 175 voices and it has mastered the cantata completely.

Bethany is a sacred cantata for solo and chorus of mixed voices by this Herbert and can be summed up in two parts as follows:

Bethany, the simple and sweet home of Lazarus and his sisters, Mary and Martha, wherein Jesus, "the one and only," often found rest and comfort, and where some of the wondrous deeds of the Master took place, are the scenes in this work.

Part I deals with the visit of the disciples from Jerusalem, who pay tribute to the quiet and restful village as they approach it, who, when in the presence of the Master, seek his words of truth and wisdom, are received lovingly, are taught the parable of the Good Shepherd, and of the departure of Jesus to the night shades of the hill. There he prays and communes with His Father.

Part II opens with the news brought to Jesus of Lazarus' sickness and death, the sorrows and lamentation at her Bethany home; the coming of Jesus to awake him; the dialogue with Martha concerning the resurrection; the raising of Lazarus; the receding over the miracle; the departure of Jesus; again to the hills, His hour having come; the disciples' foreboding of trouble befalling their Master, and then final rejoicing in the hope that the kingdom of love, truth and righteousness would soon be established upon the earth.

KANSAS WOMAN WHO SUFFERED

From Headache, Backache, Dizziness and Nervousness, Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lawrence, Kans.—"A year ago I was suffering from a number of ailments. I always had pain and was irregular. During the delay I suffered a great deal with headache, backache, dizziness, nervousness and bloating. I had been married nearly three years. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I feel better than I have for years. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all who suffer as I did."—Mrs. M. ZEUNER, 1045 New Jersey Street, Lawrence, Kansas.

Montana Woman's Case. Burns, Mont.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me of awful backache which I had suffered with for months. I was so weak I could hardly do my work and my head and eyes ached all the time. Your Compound helped me in many ways and is a great strengthener. I always recommend it to my friends and tell them what a grand medicine it is for women. You may use my name for the good of others."—Mrs. JOHN FRANCIS, Burns, Montana.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love of money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

The affidavit was placed in the hands of the legislative committee, last Thursday by Deputy Sheriff R. M. Sullivan of Sagamon county and although the document was not made public it is said to contain allegations of immorality on the part of the lieutenant governor.

"The investigation will go to the bottom of the whole affair," said Senator Samuel Etzelson, chairman of the committee, before the hearing began. "I do not know whether it will be public or not. That is something that will be left to the committee as a whole."

A subpoena was issued for Miss Robinson, who is considered by the committee as the principal witness in the case but it had not been served when the hearing opened. Miss Robinson has been at the home of a relative in this city for two days but duties were told that she had left.

Senator Etzelson later announced that a subpoena had been served on the Robinson woman and that she probably would be the first witness examined. The committee prepared to

CHATS WITH THINKING WOMEN by Barbara Boyd

Mother's Day.

Did you know that a single postage stamp created Mother's Day; that it was instrumental in starting the observance of the day? For it was the sentiment in the heart that really created it. Had there not been the ready response in every heart to the thought, no amount of postage stamps or of efforts could have created it.

But Miss Jarvis, whose idea it is, said, "Soldiers, sailors, and statesmen are nationally honored, but the mothers who went into the valley of the shadow of death to bear them, are forgotten." And so she used the postage stamp, that has now become famous, to write to a church paper asking that the second Sunday in May be observed in honor of mothers.

And it was done. And now the world around, a white flower will be worn tomorrow by men and women, by old and young, in memory of mother. It is said there are only two other international holidays; which shows, though started only so recently, the hold it has upon the heart.

But more important in the true observance of the day than the wearing of a flower, is the doing of some special thing to please mother. And if one's own mother is beyond human reach, let us do something for somebody else's mother.

If we are away from home, let us send a special letter; and in this letter, open our hearts a bit, if we do not usually do it, and tell mother all that her love and care and thoughtfulness mean to us, and have done for us. If we can afford it, let us also send something in addition to the letter. Let the parcel post take a box as well, bearing in it something we know mother especially likes.

If we are at home, let us tomorrow put mother on the pedestal, which by rights she ought always to occupy, and let the whole household pay her homage as its queen. Or in other words, let the other members of the family do the work and let mother, tomorrow, be waited on as is royalty.

Perhaps it will waken us up a bit to all that the mother hands and the mother heart looks after.

For— "Nobody knows the work it takes To keep the house together; Nobody knows the steps it takes, Nobody knows—but Mother."

MRS. ALICE GARDNER.

INA ALICE GARDNER, daughter of Hugh and Laura Gardner, was born August 7, 1892, and departed this life March 26th, 1913, at the age of 20 years, 7 months, and 19 days. She leaves to mourn her departure a father, mother, two sisters, Lela and Mrs. Homer Van Wey and many loving friends and acquaintances. One sister, Elizabeth, preceded her to the better world several years ago. She was a true, faithful and devoted teacher in the public schools at St. Louis and no teacher was ever more universally respected and loved by her pupils. She united with the Evangelical Lutheran church at St. Louis when quite young, remaining a faithful and consistent member until death. She retained consciousness until the last and with an abiding faith and trust in Jesus, she called her loved ones about her and told them she was not afraid to die; that she was ready and willing to go to her Saviour.

Funeral services were held at Eden chapel on Saturday at 11 o'clock, Rev. W. K. Himes officiating.

Words fail to express our appreciation to our dear neighbors and friends who so lovingly assisted us during the illness and death of our daughter, and to the minister and to the teacher and pupils of St. Louis and others for their beautiful floral offerings and words of sympathy.

Birthday Calendar

MAY 10

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY Be conscientiously careful of things belonging to your employer or of things given to your care by anyone. Your next year will be happy, but without great efforts.

Those born today should be trained to entire self-dependence, for although they will have remarkable talents these will be made to serve the advantage of others, unless the talented ones are capable of some management of their own affairs.

Equal Suffrage Calendar.

The favorable vote on Woman Suffrage in the senate of Pennsylvania revises the suffrage calendar so that it now stands: in Montana, Nevada, North and South Dakota, the question goes to the voters in 1914. In Iowa, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania, it has passed one legislature and must pass another. The cause is marching on because it is fair and just.

The Women's Commercial league of Cleveland, a new organization among business women, recently heard Professor Hutton of the Western Reserve University speak on Cleveland's proposed city charter.

"I have never spoken to a group of people more keenly alive. They asked one most searching questions. There was no getting away from them before they knew all that I had to tell them," said Professor Hutton to the Charter commission on the next evening.

"The Commercial League," said one of its members, "wants to serve, but first we must know, so we propose to have a course of studies and lectures on city affairs."

Warrenville, O.—"I have felt the effects of blood poisoning for eighteen years. I was never without some eruptions on my body. The terrible itching caused me much suffering and discomfort, while the rubbing and scratching made it worse."

My face was terribly red and sore, and felt as if my skin was on fire. At last I tried a sample of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and I found them so cool, soothing and healing that I got some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Resolvent. I bathed with hot water and Cuticura Soap, then I applied the Cuticura Ointment every night for two months, and I am entirely cured of all skin eruptions." Without using the scientific terms, there are two kinds of deafness that creep on us gradually, the hardening of the eardrum and the running ear, both conducive to less and less ability to hear clearly. Many who are so afflicted attribute the ailment to catarrhal influence or increasing years and do nothing to remedy what they deem incurable. There is no science so backward as that which deals with diseases of the ear. Aurists and otologists have made some curative progress in otosclerosis, a process of bone formation in which ossification takes place within the substance of the cartilage. Few cures have been actually effected, and a prominent medical authority states that until the cause and cure of rheumatism are determined deafness will continue. The presence of uric acid in the system is, according to this learned man, the cause of deafness either swift or progressive. Banish this blood acid and the deaf will hear. It is advisable, therefore, to watch out against the twinges of gout and the rheumatic stiffening of the joints and muscles if deafness is to be sidetracked.—Leslie's.

The Bibliomaniac's Error.
There is a famous story of a man, Don Vincente of Aragon, that is told by all writers upon the art of book hunting. This Don Vincente is called by Andrew Lang "the great pattern of biblioclept." To get the book he coveted he killed his possessor and set fire to his house so as to cover up his crime. But the man was at last suspected and the famous book found in his possession to confirm the suspicion. The case against him was argued on the ground that there was but one copy in the world of the book found in his possession, and its previous owner was known to all. Don Vincente had a clever lawyer, who proved that another copy did exist in the Louvre, and since there were two, he argued, there might also be more, and so Don Vincente might have come honestly by his. At this Don Vincente gave a great cry and said to the alcade: "Ah, Señor Alcade, my error was clumsy indeed! My copy was not unique."—Frederick A. King in Bookman.

The Shape of the Sky.
What is the apparent form of the vault of the sky? There is probably no one to whose eyes it seems a true hemisphere, with the zenith appearing as distant as the horizon. At sea or in a flat country the seeming greater distance of the horizon is best shown. Professor J. M. Perrier in a study of this subject reached the conclusion that the form of the vault in vertical section is that of the segment of a circle, the arc of which subtends at the center at an angle of the order of 40 degrees. If the reader will draw such a segment he may be surprised by the amount of flattening which is thus ascribed to the sky. From this optical illusion many curious effects arise, such as the seeming increased magnitude of the sun and moon when near the horizon and the apparently oval forms of halos and coronas seen at low altitudes.

The Word "Humbug."
The idea of the "humbug" is as old as the first fable of India, for the earliest as well as the latest of these, though ostensibly "holy men," and at times most sincere, are often only too ready to deceive the credulous by the tricks which they practice. But the word itself is explained as being a corruption of the word "Hamburg."

During the period when false reports and bulletins were issued from the city of Hamburg, in Germany, so that finally when any one wished to suggest his disbelief in a statement, even if printed in the papers, he said, "Oh, that comes from Hamburg," or "That is a Hamburg," soon corrupted into "humbug" as the stamp of fakism.—New York Mail.

The Bald Spot.
A child of two years, with bright eyes and a roguish mind, began suddenly to giggle in church one Sunday morning. Noticing the child watching the back of a nodding deacon's head, the mother inquired into the cause of such merriment.

"Oh, mamma," laughed the child, "that man's head is pecking out the meat through a hole in his hair!"—National Monthly.

She Doesn't Have To.
"I know a woman who never has to ask her husband for money."
"He must be a very good husband."
"He isn't."
"Then how is it she never has to ask him for money?"
"Because the court makes him pay her alimony."—Baltimore American.

Scientific.
A scientific writer says that the only color that can be determined by the sense of touch is blue. True enough. A man always knows when he feels "blue."—New Orleans Picayune.

Just His Idea.
Tommy—Pop, are the bald eagles a distinct variety? Tommy's Pop—I can't say positively, my son, but I rather fancy a bald eagle is simply a married one.—Philadelphia Record.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.
[Associated Press Telegram]
Chicago, May 10.—Purchases by shorts, who wished to protect themselves over Sunday, gave strength to wheat today in the deferred months.

May was weak after the flurry of yesterday. Holiday in Liverpool left the market largely to local influences. Some little export demand was the source of part of the strength shown.

Opening prices were 3-8 lower to 1-8@1-1 higher. July started unchanged to 1-8 up at 89 1-2 to 5-8 and went to 89 5-8@6-4. Fair buying of corn helped prices a little, steadiness being imparted by continued lightness of offerings. July opened 1-4 higher at 56 1-8 and sold up at eighth of a cent. Oats showed firmness on continued good demand. July began 1-8@1-1 higher at 35 and later reached 35 3-8@1-2.

Very moderate offerings and a slackness of demand were features of the opening in provisions. July products started at 19 1-2 to 1-2 for pork; 10 1-2 for lard, and 10 1-2 to 10 3-4 for ribs. The opening range was unchanged to five cents lower.
